One of the things I really love about Wholesaling real estate is the FREEDOM you gain from being your own BOSS setting your own rules and schedule. I remember when I was chained down to a 9 to 5 j.o.b. (just over broke) that I had no passion for.

It's one thing when you actually love what you do for a living every single day. It's totally different when you literally hate getting up in the morning to go into that dreadful 9 to 5 just for a pay check every two weeks. Do what you love use wholesaling as a vehicle to get you to your true passion.
